

Peer Spark Interviews

Ask your partner the following questions and take notes on his or her answers. Then let your partner interview you. Talk together about the similarities and differences in your answers.

What is your name? _____

What is one of your sparks? Or if you don't have a spark yet, what is one kind of spark you'd like to try? _____

Who helps you the most with your spark? Or if you don't know your spark yet, who might help you get to try that potential spark? _____

What is one way you can imagine to learn more about your spark (or potential spark) or to start to practice it? _____
